

Churches: Wake up and teach the Bible

March 5, 2009 12:35 am

If anyone would like to know where America is headed, read Deuteronomy chapter 28. It speaks of blessings to a nation for obedience and curses to a nation for disobedience.

Chapter 28 speaks of a curse upon cities, upon the economy, and plagues of illnesses, drought, divorce, bankruptcies, and loss of a generation of youth.

America is experiencing the greatest moral corruption and spiritual bankruptcy we have ever known.

At one time, we were the world's greatest lender. Now, we have become the world's greatest debtor. Bank failures and auto industry failures are happening because of greed, deception, pride, arrogance, and lies, which all fall under the category of sin.

Even many churches don't preach against greed or covetousness. It's now called prosperity and wealth, which they say is promised to all of God's children.

Some churches believe in same-sex marriages. Some believe in freedom of choice (abortion). Many churches now believe the Bible is not infallible and has many contradictions.

William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, made this statement around 1900: "I consider that the chief dangers which confront the coming century will be religion without the Holy Ghost; Christianity without Christ; forgiveness without repentance; salvation without regeneration; politics without God; and Heaven without Hell."

Is it any wonder we are experiencing such moral decay? Church, please wake up! Enough preaching about prosperity and mid-life crises. Preach the full counsel of God even if it offends. Preach repentance, preach righteousness, and preach the cross of Jesus Christ.

Preach the Bible as it is, the inerrant word of God, and let it be done in love before it is too late for this once great nation.
